{ ABOUT US }

Spices are integral to every Indian kitchen. Our spices are a testimony to the rich heritage and the diverse food culture across India. Apart from adding aroma and flavour, the health benefits and healing properties of our Indian spices have been known since ancient times and is gaining popularity by the day.

Dr. M.C. Agarwal's search for hygienically packed quality spices led him to venture into the spice business. Thus he started R.M.Spices along with his medical practice. He started with the packaging of whole spices and gradually expanded his business by putting up state of the art machinery and equipment for powdered and grounded spices n seasonings. Keeping with his vision for quality, we installed flavour lock grinding technology to keep the aroma and flavour of our spices intact.

During our journey in the spice business the requisite that has constantly remained utmost important to is quality and hygiene. Every batch of our product is personally checked by him. We aspire to have our R.M.Spices products in every kitchen in the northeast.

Interesting Facts About Spices & Seasonings

Red bell peppers are simply fully ripened green bell peppers. Yellow bell peppers, however, are different cultivars.

Ancient Greeks and Romans thought basil would only grow if you screamed wild curses and shouted while sowing the basil seeds.

Nutmeg adds a very nutty and sweet flavor to soups and desserts but too much of Nutmeg can actually make you go nuts! Nutmeg is a psychotropic and in high enough doses causes hallucinations and delusions.

The ginger plant is approximately 30 – 60 cm tall and is extremely rare to find in the wild.

Garlic, yogurt, and tea tree oil are all successful home remedies for vaginal yeast infections.
